- A. Making reasonable accommodations for a disabled person.
- B. Avoiding the use of inquiries that are considered unacceptable by EEO standards during the recruiting process.
- C. Refusing to screen candidates based upon the race, color, religion, age, race, gender, sexual orientation, etc.

BYU EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING & INTERNSHIPS

What is Experiential Learning?

Experiential Learning at BYU aims to develop disciplinary skills, practice professional competencies, inspire greater learning, and imbue habits of lifelong learning in our students. These are most successfully achieved through a process of intention, integration, and reflection. In other words, learning is greater when students are:

- A. Set expectations for their own learning as part of an experience;
- B. Given opportunities to integrate their existing knowledge and intentions into the experience;
- C. Guided through reflection that evaluates intended and unintended outcomes of an experience, all with the purpose of applying new knowledge to new experience.

This process teaches students how to learn through experience. It is how students learn to seek, recognize and act upon inspiration, and it forms their foundation for lifelong learning. As employers work with students in experiential learning environments, they will engage the student purposefully in this process. Ultimately, we will see an increased ability among our students to demonstrate the ability to learn skills, competencies, and habits of lifelong learning.

Benefits to an Organization or Company

- Offers a year-round source of highly motivated pre-professionals.
- Brings new and innovative ideas to an employer.
- Creates the opportunity to recruit future employees.
- Converts student interns to full-time employees who can be immediately productive.
- Strengthens the bond with the university and projects a favorable image in the community.
- Allows the employer the opportunity to have an impact on shaping the lives of students.

What is required from an organization or company?

- Create a Handshake account and post the experiential learning opportunity for student awareness.
- Sign the Internship Master Agreement, or an acceptable modification thereof designed to indemnify all parties involved in the internship process. (Experience Provider, University, and Student)
- Agree to provide a quality learning experience while helping the student achieve their learning objectives and experiential learning goals.
- Designate an employee to oversee the student's work performance, and provide seasoned mentorship during the student's experience.
- Provide evaluation and/or progress reports including attendance as well as qualitative assessments of the student's learning.

The evaluation occasions may be twice during the semester or term, or a final evaluation. For more information, visit experience.byu.edu, email experience@byu.edu, or call 801-422-3337.

TIPS FOR SUCCESS FOR EMPLOYER EVENTS

Before your event: Use the following questions in your planning.

- Purpose: What is the goal of your event? What students are you hoping to reach or connect with? What opportunities on the Menu of Services could you use to accomplish your purpose?
- People: Who on your team would be the best to talk to potential candidates? Is there value in using a recent intern or BYU alumni? Do you need to consider a diverse group to address a variety of questions?
- Promotion: What have you found successful for your group in outreaching candidates? Have you been using all the resources offered by BYU CEL? Do you have an active social media account that would be useful in promotion? Have you advertised your event on Handshake two weeks in advance? Are the students aware of your event?
- Plan: Are you aware of the options available in hosting your event?
  - IN-PERSON: Best times for information sessions and events is 12 noon and after 5pm; best days are Tues, Weds, Thurs (any building outside of the Wilkinson Student Center); have some refreshments for the students to mingle and discuss more with the recruiter.
  - VIRTUAL: Do you have a platform your company uses such as Zoom or Google Hangout? Are you planning to attend the Handshake Virtual Fairs training? Has someone tested your system to check video and audio? Is everyone on your team aware of the process and set up for your event? Has everyone tested their lighting and environment? Is everyone on board with the suggested dress code for the event? How can you show your company culture in a virtual setting?

During your event: Here's some tips we have from our own experience with events.

- Plan to have a backup person or two, ready to step in if there are any technical problems. This way the event can continue on and you will not lose your audience.
- Be prepared to present your company. Anticipate the questions students may ask about you or your organization. Be prepared with some questions to engage candidates. Candidates may not know where to start or when to join in.
- Have introductions ready for colleagues, if necessary.
- Remove all distractions so you are completely focused on the event and the attendees.

"It would be nice if employers and companies provided more detailed information about the positions they have available." -BYU Student, Career & Internship Fair Fall '20

"Have more information for us. Post your jobs that are available." -BYU Student, STEM Fair: Math & Data, Fall '20

After your event:

- Follow up with all who attended. Let them know you appreciated them attending and ask follow-up questions.
- Have a plan for any who missed the event. Reach out to them with a personalized email.
- Consider tracking those who applied from a specific event. This could be helpful in your reporting on a specific fair or event.

For questions about events, please contact our Events Manager, Beth Hiatt at beth\_hiatt@byu.edu.

"I come from a humble home that has made many sacrifices to allow me to be here in the United States to study. I wanted to become a nurse because I have found it to be the best way to fulfill my calling to serve.

When I see my patients' faces as I help them in their times of need, I find that I am making meaningful contributions to the world. Being a nurse is one of the most selfless choices one can make. I am honored to be part of a program that focuses on serving others and allows me to have the tools to do it."
